SECURITY DOGMA

Crowded Day Tracker Checklist

For theme parks, airports, stadiums and the first day of school. Works with an AirTag or any tracker tag.

FREE PRINTABLE

1 The morning before you go

- ☐ Pair it with a neutral name. “Blue backpack,” not your child's name.
- ☐ Share it with the other adult. Find My → Items → the AirTag → Add Person, so they can see it and play its sound.
- ☐ Put it on the child, not just the bag. Kids put bags down. Use a tamper-resistant wristband or shoe insert.
- ☐ Toddlers: use a holder that closes with a screw. The coin battery can cause severe internal burns if swallowed.
- ☐ Test it. Have the other adult walk off with it. Check the map updates and the sound works.
- ☐ Turn on what helps you find it. Bluetooth and Location Services on. Notify When Left Behind if you also tag a bag.
- ☐ Brief your child in one minute. If we get separated: stay where you are, find a worker with a name badge or a parent with kids, and say my phone number.

2 The moment you arrive

- ☐ Take a family photo. An up-to-date picture showing exactly what everyone is wearing.
- ☐ Agree on a meeting point everyone can find.
- ☐ Write your phone number on their arm or on the card below.

Know the limits

An AirTag shows where the tag was last seen, not where your child is right now.

No geofence alerts, no SOS button, no calling.

Child who wanders, or has autism or special needs? A real GPS tracker is the better choice.

No device replaces supervision. Never rely on one device alone.

Found a tracker you didn't place?

1. Don't destroy it. It may be evidence.
2. Document it. Photos, alert screenshots, date and time.
3. Read its identity. Hold it near your iPhone or an NFC Android phone to see the serial number.
4. Decide before you disable it. If you think someone is following your child, call police first.
5. Talk to your child calmly. Who has had access to their bag or coat?
6. Contact police, keep your records. Shared custody? Also talk to a qualified attorney.

✂ cut out and put in a pocket or wristband

If I get lost

1. I stay where I am.
2. I find a worker with a name badge, or a parent with kids.
3. I show them this card.

My parent's phone:

_____

Meeting point:

_____
